The Benefits of Going Solar and Repairing your Roof at the Same Time

Semper Solaris, your local and veteran owned solar and roofing company, has earned the trust of San Diegans, because of their exceptional customer service. Semper Solaris received an A+ rating with the Better Business Bureau and has glowing Yelp reviews. Semper Solaris' co-owners, Kelly Shawhan and John Almond, instill the highest customer service standards in their team. Semper Solaris is known throughout San Diego as the most trusted name in solar and roofing.

Not only is Semper Solaris the industry leader in solar installations, but they are your most trusted roofing contractors as well. They are an Owens Corning Preferred Contractor and their services include installing new roofs, roof replacements, and roof repairs. Semper Solaris experts have been on thousands of roofs. They do not install solar panels unless they can be sure that the roof is in top condition. SunPower solar panels are the highest efficiency on the market and have a 25 year warranty. It is important to ensure that your roof is not showing any signs of damage so it lasts as long as your panels.

Your home is your most valuable investment, and your roof is one of the most important parts of your home's structure. Most roofs have a lifespan of about 20-25 years before they start becoming ineffective or damaged. If your roof is nearing this age marker—or if you start seeing your neighbors replacing their roofs, it's a good sign that you need a roof inspection as well.

As the thermal barrier to your home, a properly installed roof will keep your home cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter. Older homes that have experienced normal wear and tear can see up to 25% of their heat escape through the roof. This means you have to run your utilities more often, driving up your bills. Replacing your roof can feel like a costly investment, but the truth is, investing in a new roof now will save you money over time.

Semper Solaris offers roof repairs, in addition to solar and new roofs. The rainy season is just getting started here in San Diego. Now is the perfect time to get a roof inspection and fix any small issues before more rain is on the way. Don't wait until your roof is leaking. It's better to get your roof inspected now to minimize the damage and the cost. Your roof is not something that you look at on a daily basis, so it can be hard to tell if your roof is showing signs of damage. Keep an eye out for these warning signs and call Semper Solaris immediately before you get a leak. If your shingles are cracked, curling, or buckling, or if shingle granules are washing into the gutters, it's likely time to replace. If there are even minor signs of roof sagging, you may have a dangerous structural issue on your hands and it's certainly time to replace. If you have water stains or light coming into your attic, then your roof is on its last legs. The good news is, that if caught early enough, roof damage can be repaired without having to replace your whole roof. The same principles and commitment to quality work that make Semper Solaris the SunPower National Residential Dealer of the Year are evident in their roofing division as well. Semper Solaris partners with top of the line manufacturer Owens Corning to provide you with the best quality products. Their expert team of installers has the highest quality customer service, making your roof replacement project hassle free!

While Semper Solaris is looking at your roof, maximize your savings and go solar at the same time! When you add solar to your new roof, you immediately increase your home's value and become energy independent. Once you go solar, you'll see savings every month.
